

YOKE NOT EASY. Cincinnati University football players have something new in their training equipment this year. It's called a yoking strap. A wonderful device to train footballers to go through the opposition's line.

MRS. CLARE SHERIDAN, prominent figure in English literature and art, is visiting this country.

SCENE OF FRENCH TUNNEL WRECK. Scores of lives were lost in the head-on collision at Batignolles. Parts of both engines are shown in the etching, as they appeared a few minutes after the crash.

SHE'S THE CAPTAIN. Miss Zimmelman, of Federal Reserve Bank's basketball team.

RETURNING FROM HONEYMOON. Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Dodge come back to New York after several months in Europe.

NO WONDER PRINCETON LOST. This type of cheer leading would play havoc with many of the best football teams of the land. The Navy cheer leader is C. O. Comp. Somersaulting was his specialty.

GENERAL PERSHING IN GERMANY. The United States Army Chief is photographed with the band at Solenz, after he had reviewed the American troops now on the Rhine. From Coblenz the General went to Paris. He is now in England.

JOSEPH M. STEELE talks on industrial building conditions in Philadelphia, in an interview appearing on the Editorial Page.

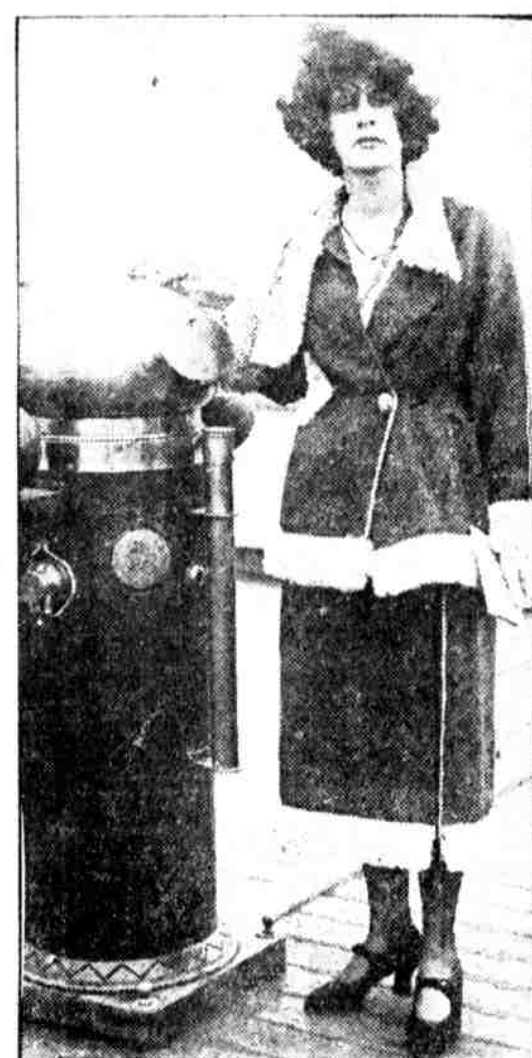

WEST PHILA. HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS. Miss Ruth A. Bitt, right, and Miss Peggy McLaughlin, left, are members.

MISS HELEN FRASER, English political lecturer, arrives from London.

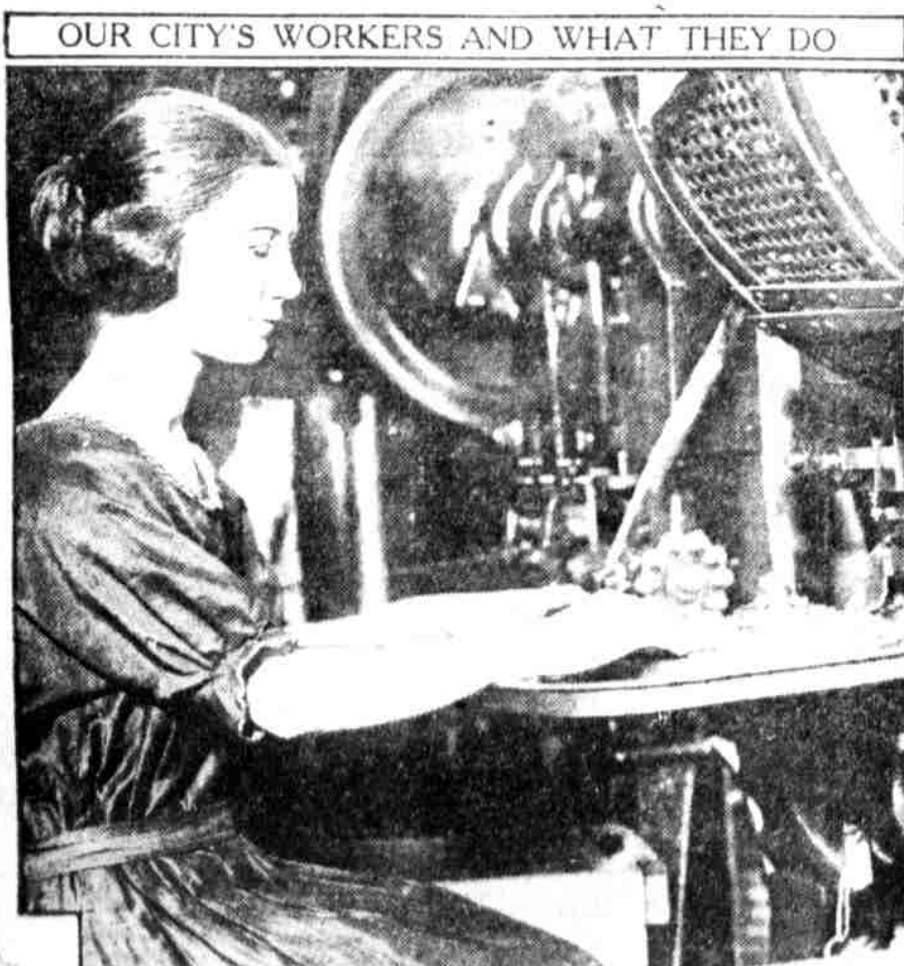

CHARLES CHAPLIN, the screen comedian, gets back from Europe. Miss Alma Taylor posed with him.

LATEST FASHION FROM PARIS. Worn by Miss Allen Flannery, as she arrived on the Berengarin, from a French port.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ROTAN and Samuel B. Stinson were stopped as they came down the steps of the Union League during the moon hour.

MAKING RIVETS. Miss Bernice Smith, 2768 Helen street, operating a machine that makes 25,000 big rivets a day, at the Penn Rivet Company, Third and Huntingdon streets.

MISS K. E. LIDDERDALE GETTING READY FOR THE AMERICAN MATCHES. Members of the English International Hockey Team were matched against a group of St. Martin's girls, on the grounds of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, yesterday. It was all for practice.

MRS. W. LEE STEWART

MRS. M. S. CLAY

RECEIVING TELLER. Louis A. Leutenberger, 5307 Larchwood avenue, during a busy hour, at the Real Estate Title Insurance and Trust Company's Broad street office.

BUSY PHILADELPHIANS